

HONOR MEMORY OF CHAMP CLARK

Veteran Democrat Succumbs at Capital.

Congress Pays Affectionate Tribute to Chieftain.

that there was an accumulation of elements due largely to administration's own fault. A nomination of a little time, Dr. Shantz knew, despite the courageous fight his party was making, and besides Mrs. Clark, the former Speaker's son, Bennett, and his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Thomson of New Orleans, were at his bedside.

In the Senate, word of Mr. Clark's death was given by Senator Harrison of Mississippi. He spoke feelingly of the services the Democratic leader had rendered his party and the nation.

WILL LIE IN STATE.

Congress on Saturday, however, will pay respect to the dead leader in a manner which has been duplicated on a few times in its history. Two days' arrangements for the funeral provide for funeral services Saturday in the House. Before the services, the body will lie in state there. Not since 1914, when services were held for B. E. Payne, have services been held for a representative from New York in the House chamber been used for such a purpose.

Then a special funeral train bearing the body, with Mr. Clark's family, the administration, the Senate and House and the special House and Senate committees named to attend the final services, will leave for Albany Saturday morning. The services will be held in the House, the Speaker will be called to read.

Individual tributes to the memory of Mr. Clark quickly followed announcement of his death. Republican members, joined in paying respects at the funeral, tabled the resolution from New York.

Among individual tributes was a statement from "Uncle Joe" Cannon, who preceded Mr. Clark as Speaker and who, on completing a record term in the House, was the subject of one of the last addresses Mr. Clark made in the House.

Senator Williams of Mississippi, who preceded Mr. Clark as Democratic leader of the House, characterized his former colleague as "an honest, able man, of unselfish purpose and fundamentally devoted to Jeffersonian Democratic principles."

Another personal friend of the House leader, declared Mr. Clark "the most distinguished man" and "the most beloved man" in the State.

From outside of Congress came a tribute from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who declared "the death of Champ Clark is a loss to America and American freedom."

"The labor movement," he said, "will mourn the loss of a sincere fighter for freedom and justice. Wherever the hearts of men and women beat for a better day and happier lives there will be grief at the death of Champ Clark, a solid Democrat and true American."

Colleagues of the former Speaker recalled tonight that his last appearance in the House chamber was February 14, the day before he was taken ill and that his last extended address was late in January, in support of the proposal to increase the membership of the House.

The House tonight voted to set aside an hour tomorrow for eulogies of the late associate and adopted a resolution inviting to attend the funeral the President-elect and members-designate of his Cabinet, the Vice-President and the Vice-President-elect, the Chief Justice and Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the Diplomatic Corps, the Chief of Naval Operations and the general of the Army, as well as Senators and Senators-elect.

DEFEATED BY BRYAN.

In the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912, Champ Clark led two delegations in the nomination of Woodrow Wilson, despite the courageous fight his party was making, and besides Mrs. Clark, the former Speaker's son, Bennett, and his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Thomson of New Orleans, were at his bedside.

Mr. Clark's sincerity, friendship for opponents and adherents alike, his fairness as a presiding officer and his knowledge of history, his love of stories, and his marvelously retentive memory ranked with his attributes of leadership. He welded the minority into a "victorious Democratic party" after having received a majority of the votes in the national convention, but he enjoyed the unique distinction of being elected subsequently.

Physically he was a giant of a man, standing over six feet two inches in height and weighing a hundred and more than 200 pounds. Speaker Clark and Mrs. Champ Clark, a familiar figure in the Speaker's bench in the gallery, enjoyed the warmest welcome from the blue which made the Congress a success. Clark supporters declared afterward that none of the three "men mentioned were for Clark as an elector, but that the unit rule caused the New York delegation to the Clark forces.

BREACH NEVER HEALED.

The breach between Bryan and Clark never healed, although they met at a luncheon arranged by mutual friends a few months later and exchanged perfunctory speeches. Coolness between Clark and Wilson remained off the record, but the White House and on legislative policies they worked in harmony except in one notable instance, the re-opening of the Panama tolls exemption, which Speaker Clark opposed successfully.

The failure of his candidacy at Baltimore never ceased to be the bane of Champ Clark's life. He refused nomination as Vice-President and told the House on the eve of his defeat that he preferred to remain as Speaker.

Mr. Harding sent this telegram to the Speaker:

"I am deeply grieved to learn of the death of Mr. Clark. I deeply regret his marked ability and his great public service, which had come to hold him in very affectionate personal regard. I know that all who knew him will join me in wishing 'had your approval may be tempered by the consciousness of the country giving with you."

STEPHENS SENDS MESSAGE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) SACRAMENTO, March 2.—Deep regret at the death of Champ Clark was expressed by President-elect Harding tonight. The two men had been friends for many years.

Their last meeting was in New York in November 1918, when both were guests at a luncheon. They discussed election results, the Presidential nomination, and the entry of the United States into the war.

Champ Clark will be laid to rest Saturday morning at the cemetery of James M. Thompson, a New Orleans newspaper editor, who announced in the waning days of the sixty-third Congress that he was a Democrat.

REBELLION DISPATCH.

Col. John F. Jackson, head of the industrial relations committee of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, declared investors feared putting money in construction, lest they lose it through deflation.

Federation of Construction Industries today summed up

the housing situation in the United

delegates from cities in all parts of the United States who met for a two-day session during which effort will be made to rouse the building industry to action to solve the building shortage through

"It is up to all the elements in the construction industry to get their own costs down to an irreducible minimum, even if that entails doing business at a time of profit or even loss," declared Ernest T. Trigell, president of the federation, in sounding the keynote of the meeting.

PLAY GAME SQUARELY.

"Whatever that level is up to the construction industry to tell the public who prices cannot go below the reduced figure, it is then the building industry was honest with the public and the game was played fairly," he said.

"I shall not attempt to say what the new normal should be. It lends itself to arithmetic and I believe it is in advance of the 1914 levels. The cause of increased standard of living. On the question of wages I believe workmen should have enough to educate their children, enjoy more conveniences and lay a little aside.

"At the same time we should get prewar efficiency and the elimination of disturbing influences, such as unfair practices, jurisdictional disputes and the like."

"We are concerned not only with the housing situation, but also with the housing situation, but also with the building industry, the building industry employs more men and is a bigger industry than any other in the United States which exerts a strong influence on agriculture."

The industry normally adds $2,000,000,000

each year to the wealth of the nation.

It is now idle. Something must be done to get back the confidence of the people and a stabilization of values."

Col. Jackson, who heads a large delegation from Philadelphia, suggests that each delegate take home an outline of the plan for consideration in each locality. The plan, in brief, is for joint committee of employers, employees, bankers, merchants, manufacturers and public officials who are primarily interested in the building industry where the fact is that the situation must be arrived at with the resultant effect of reduction of costs which are maintained at high level through agreements or lack of competition.

INVESTORS FEARFUL.

Col. John F. Jackson, head of the industrial relations committee of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, declared investors feared putting money in construction, lest they lose it through deflation.

"We have no desire to see things move in the building industry unless we can get the economic basis," said Col. Jackson. "Arriving at that basis includes getting materials and labor on an acceptable footing and in giving the public accurate information regarding movements in the industry."

Dale Crawford, Jr., president of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, estimated the shortage of homes at 1,500,000.

"In addition to 1,500,000 homes," he said, "there are 1,000,000 small 500,000 factories, 500 schools and

public institutions, 60,000 apartment

buildings, 20,000 theaters and

churches, 150 freight terminals

and sheds, and 15,000 railroad stations, too, houses and the like."

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Pacific Rice Growers' Association was relieved today of a temporary order restraining it from obtaining loans from banks, on its showing that the loans were vital to the rice interests of California. Argument on a permanent injunction will be heard Monday by the United States District Court.

The injunction is sought on a charge of conspiracy to keep up prices on falling market brought by G. A. McConaughay, rice grower who accused the association and a number of financial institutions of scheming to hold rice because of unsatisfactory markets.

The company filed an affidavit by C. E. Grosvenor, San Francisco miller, that because of his refusal to enter the supposed conspiracy he could get no rice and his mills were idle.

TARIFF WAITS ACTION.

General legislation awaiting the President's signature includes the emergency tariff bill to keep him to day, and a bill for a reorganization of the Post Office Department; an immigration restriction bill, now before the Labor Department for a report, and the resolution repeating most of the war-time laws.

The House today again refused to agree to the Senate amendment to the army appropriation bill, fixing the strength at 175,000. The bill was sent back to conference.

The House agreed to the conference compromise of $21,100,000 for the army air service.

The fate of the soldier bonus bill apparently was decided in the Senate.

North Dakota, for the Finance Committee, made formal request for unanimous consent to bring up the measure, but Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, objected.

DEADLOCK UNBROKEN.

Senator McConaughay asked if the Senate would carry his opposition far enough to tie up the measure with parliamentary obstruction, and Senator Thomas replied that he would not do so.

Both parties then agreed to let Senator Thomas introduce a bill to increase the appropriation $10,000,000 for the Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala., still unbroken.

The Senate Judiciary Committee adopted tonight by the Senate to continue during the recess of Congress its investigation of loans by the United States to foreign countries.

The resolution was drafted on request of the committee after the Treasury Department had delivered to it six boxes filled with photographic copies of the correspondence covering loan negotiations.

TREATY RATIFICATION

COLBY DECLARER WE LOSE IN

SOUTH AMERICA TO COM-MERCIAL COMPETITORS.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Delay of the Senate in ratifying the treaty with Colombia has been most unfortunate, and with all countries where Spanish is spoken, commercial trade, confidence and commercial opportunity, Secretary of State Colby told delegates to the Southern Commercial Congress tonight.

The fate of the bill, he declared, has worked to the benefit of commercial competitors of the United States.

The Secretary scored American business men for employing unscrupulous methods in amassing fortunes during the war.

He said, "Injured American standing in Latin America by taking chamber with his money with his customers' confidence.

Responding to Secretary Colby's address, a Mr. Alencar of Brazil was asked if he was in favor of legislation which might tend to destroy commerce between America and other countries.

America, he declared, is in danger of losing all advantage gained during the war, when European competition was removed.

ALIEN LAND BILL

GOES TO GOVERNOR.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

OLYMPIA (Wash.), March 2.—By a vote of 36 to 2, the State Senate today passed the alien land bill, which prohibits aliens not eligible to naturalization from buying or leasing land in the State, and prohibits all persons from engaging in land deals with such aliens.

The bill met with considerable opposition in committee hearings.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

WILLIAMSON (W. Va.) March 2.—More than a dozen defense witnesses were heard in the Matewan battle trial here today.

The testimony of the majority was used as a rebuttal against that of Captain Harry C. Starnes, who had testified that he had seen much of the shooting, and told of several incidents after the first shot was fired in the battle which resulted in the deaths of ten men.

Mrs. Stella Scales, one of the defense witnesses, stepped from the stand, she said: "I want to meet Sid Hatfield; you all will let me." Objecting was Mrs. Scales' husband, who is a defendant. Hatfield then introduced Mrs. Scales to his wife.

The House agreed to the conference compromise of $21,100,000 for the army air service.

The change was determined upon.

*We Are Ready
to Help You
Build Your Home*

To facilitate the erection of the many new homes needed in Los Angeles, we are prepared to lend the money required for their construction. This carefully-thought-out plan greatly relieves the acute housing problem with which this city is confronted.

We will advance money on any projected or recently-completed residence or apartment-house that is well located in Los Angeles or its immediate vicinity.

Loans may equal but not exceed 50 per cent of the appraised value, and on residences the limit is $50,000. Each loan is made for 15 years, and may be paid off on or after three years without bonus. Interest is payable June 1 and December 1 in each year and the principal is reduced by the payment semi-annually of 3 per cent of the face of the loan. When "Building Loans" are made, papers must be recorded before any material is delivered or labor performed. Details will be furnished on application.

You Can Do The Same Thing

ONE of our customers recently put $3,500 in Straus Bonds, instructing our service department to buy him a new $100 bond out of each $105 six months interest check, remitting the balance to him.

In this way he gets compound interest with entire safety, doubling his money in a dozen years. His total interest return over the same period will be equal to more than 9% straight interest on the original sum.

Another customer put $5,000 in Straus Bonds, the interest from which enables him to buy three new $100 bonds each year.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

Perfect American Girl Is Slim, Hazel-Eyed, Brown Hair, No Rouge

BY JANE DIXON.

Who is the most beautiful woman in America?

The personally new question has bobbed up again, giving fresh zest to pens and brushes of artists, awakening fierce ambition in the breasts of beauty who might lay claim to the golden apple.

Is our Helen of the Golden hair, fair? Is she tall or short, slender or plump, dashing or dreamy? Does she come from the West, the East, West or Mississippi-Middle?

Admittedly, these questions are not vital ones, as, for example, the League of Nations or the Tiffanys of the world. They are merely instances of artist interest. They serve a most desirable purpose—to bring about a friendly spirit of rivalry in which contestants strive to appear always in their best light, to the most of their beauty gifts they possess. Such spirit raises the standard of beauty for the entire country. Let us not forget it is the duty of every woman to be as beautiful as possible at all times.

There came to our shores only a few days past Mr. E. O. Hoppe, an English artist-photographer of international fame, who has posed more beauties, royalties, celebrities and personalities than any other artist in captivity. His London studio is haunted by wreaths of flowers from every corner of the globe.

During a six weeks' visit last summer many studies by Hoppe made their appearance on society drawing tables, and the famous man assumed the form of an epiphany. He has returned to complete his gallery of American beauties.

"Have you made a choice of flowers from your garden, I asked. "English roses when I have seated me in a deep embrasure of his Old World studio, 130 West Fifty-seventh street.

He nodded his head negatively. "Not at all," he replied. "It is an answer. "There is no pure American type. You are a polyglot of types, you Americans. The English beauty is always fair. The Spanish beauty is always dark. The Italian beauty is always dark. The French beauty is always dark. Here your beautiful girls run the gamut of the colorings."

"Surely," I argued, "you must have found something, even more beautiful than the others."

"Yes," came the admission, given in a tone which left one to believe the speaker found joy in his discovery. "The woman I have selected is a distinctly American type within another or perhaps two generations."

Then Mr. Hoppe did the very thing for which I had been hoping. He drew a word picture of the American beauty as he visualized her.

"She will have brown hair," he said. "She will have brown hair with hints of bronze and copper in it—what you call chestnut brown. Her eyes will be hazel, merry eyes with hints of the same warm brown. Her complexion will be fairer than most, but not as fair as the English. Her hair will be chestnut brown, and it will carry its own crimson and scarlet high lights of beauty. Her figure will be almost boyish, lithe, willowy, athletic by reason of exercise in the great outdoors she loves. This, in my opinion, based on careful observation, is the true American type."

A fascinating picture, if it is not?

We can only hope our English visitors will appreciate this description.

"I have found certain characteristics purely American," continued the artist. "The most outstanding of these is the eyes."

The American girl has the most beautiful eyes in the world. It is not so much the color of them as the expression that attracts. They are alive, those eyes. They tell of such perception, keen humor, cheer as the water of a woodland spring.

Women of other nations, when they talk with you, look beyond you as you dream at some imaginary point in another direction. This

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

How it is Done.

VAN NUYS, Feb. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times: The woman's club of which I am a member, at the present time, has just endorsed the King bill, and I am sure you will notice our action in the Legislature, and this is how they did it.

On the day of the meeting, we assembled at the clubhouse, expecting to hear some splendid talk on Making More Money.

Toronto Man Puts to Practical Use Discovery of Method of Teaching Song Birds to Sing.

WHEN I. C. Pickering of Toronto, the ordinary type of singing canary could be purchased for anywhere from $10 to $20, the bird was sold at $100 through as high as $100 each, he immediately made the resolution to go into the business of training canaries, and with a view to increasing his income during his spare time. Accordingly Pickering established a "canary college" and soon found that the amount of money that he is now devoting to the major portion of his attention to it.

The primary requisite of the "college" is to be the pedigree of the bird, and the pedigree—for even a bird seldom reaches the highest of high notes unless it has a pedigree—was the secret behind him. Then, in order to distinguish him from the other "students," the bird has a numbered training placard pinned to its wing, only five days old and, as soon as he has learned to feed himself, is placed in a large fly cage. It is not until he has learned to sing, and they are then segregated in separate cages, twelve of these tiny cages being placed in a large cabinet with a "professor" or trained bird who acts as a tutor.

"Another charming characteristic of your girls and women is that they do not move but one foot in front of the other. They swing along with a sort of rhythm, as if they enjoyed walking. There is freedom in their gait. I could tell an American woman blocks away from the eyes and features of American women."

"I thought surely the blonde type would prevail in the States," he explained. "That idea was very soon dispelled. This is mainly a southern influence, Spanish and Italian, and of Irish. I note considerable pure Saxon saxonism, with the Andalucian.

Put it to name one or two American beauties who had made lasting impressions upon his artistic vision. Mr. Hoppe reluctantly selected Mrs. Anna Hoyt and Mrs. William Astor Charles and Miss Millicent Rogers as his models.

Mrs. Hoyt, to whom the consensus of artistic opinion awards the golden apple, is of the dark complexion type, steel-black, flashing eyes, black-brown hair, olive complexion, thin, cameolike features.

She is a leader of the younger society.

Mrs. William Astor Charles' hair is light brown, her eyes blue, but not of the china-doll order.

There is humor and swift intelligence in their features. Her features are out and out patrician. She, too, is of the four —Friendship will be won and re-won with the hand clasp of Sincerity—the will to do all things well—a new determination to reach satisfaction for every customer—

—All of which will take shape in a presentation of New Merchandise—and New Values—aimed not merely at salesmaking, although this should be an unusual month of selling—but more in the nature of a concentration upon friendship and winning confidence through merit—

Chinese Filet Laces

—A short time ago Bullock's announced the arrival of this importation of 5000 yards of Chinese Filet Laces, and the larger part was sold, but an excellent assortment still remains for those who missed the first opportunity.

Every piece is hand-made, woven in pleasing patterns—edges and insertions to match.

Widths from one-half to seven inches, and customers will find many of the popular collar widths in edges and insertions included. Of all laces Filet is most appropriate for neckwear, underwear and trimming.

NEW BULLOCK SAILORS

—IN THE SECTION OF SAILOR HATS—A NEW DEPARTURE IN BULLOCK MILLINERY, BUT ONE THAT HAS COME TO STAY.

—IN THIS NEW SECTION BULLOCK'S WILL ENDEAVOR, ALWAYS, TO HAVE THE VERY SMARTEST AND LATEST SAILOR HATS.

—AND NOW, RIGHT NOW, THE ASSORTMENT IS WONDERFUL—SO INTERESTING! SAILORS IN ALL SHAPES AND SIZES; WITH TAILORY DRAPES OF GEORGETTE AND ORGANIE; WITH PLAIN GROSGRAIN BANDS AND BOWS; IN MANY KINDS OF BRAIDS AND STRAWS AND IN MANY SHADES.

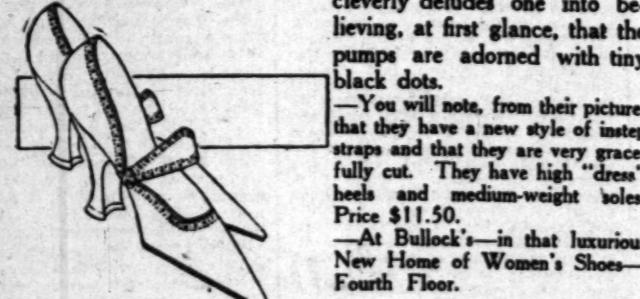

—AT BULLOCK'S—IN THE "NEW SAILOR SECTION"—MILLINERY SALON—THIRD FLOOR.

New "Sabot" Pumps

—They are quite the lastest pumps and are made of dark tan Russia calf. Their perforations take unusual and very smart lines and underneath them patent leather is so laid that it cleverly deludes one into believing, at first glance, that the pumps are adorned with tiny black dots.

—You will note, from their picture, that they have a new style of instep straps and that they are very gracefully cut. They have high "dress" heels and medium-weight soles. Price $11.50.

—At Bullock's—in that luxurious New Home of Women's Shoes—Fourth Floor.

Misses and Women of Slight and Slender Figure, who wear sizes 14, 16 or 18, will find, in their own section, at Bullock's—"Turn to the Left from the Elevators," Third Floor—perfectly

Stunning Wraps at $49.50

—Loose Coats and floaty Capes, both of which have been designed and developed with "youth and slimness" in mind!

—Armidia and Velour are the materials that have been used, and both lend themselves most gracefully to the "Mode of the Moment." Specifically,

—A Tailored Coat
has a notched shawl collar that will button "eye-high." And an all-around belt of self-material is a feature. Navy blue, brown and tan are the colors in which it is fashioned.

—A Loose Cape-Wrap

This and other Cape-Wraps and Capes come in navy blue, brown, tan, Copenhagen blue. There are thirty just such beautiful and valuable at $49.50—for Thursday.

—At Bullock's—Misses' Garment Section—Third Floor.

The "Section of Inexpensive Wash Dresses," Third Floor,

Across the Bridgeway, Bullock's, Is Showing Many New and

Fascinating Gingham Dresses

—in sizes for girls who require 16, right up to those for women who wear size 44.

—There are very simple gingham dresses, trimmed with white rick-rack braid; and there are elaborately beautiful ones, combined with white organdie in the way of "apron" overskirts, into the lower edge of which are set deep points of the gingham. A blue-and-white checked gingham, combined with white organdie in this style, is delightful; and black-and-white check, made in the same way, gives forth an "air" of coolness and neatness that is charming.

—At Bullock's—Third Floor—Across the Bridgeway.

—A Tailored Coat
has a notched shawl collar that will button "eye-high." And an all-around belt of self-material is a feature. Navy blue, brown and tan are the colors in which it is fashioned.

This Is History

—Just a short span of 14 years to March 4, 1907—That was the starting point of Bullock's.

—If you can recall the opening of Bullock's to Los Angeles and the Southwest, no words here can serve to give you more graphic vision of the progress which has been Bullock's since that time—

—If you cannot recall that time, let us take you back in brief retrospect—not for retrospect alone, but that you may see as Bullock's sees toward the goal of "building a business that will never know completion"; toward the development of a service the measure of which will be the satisfaction of every customer.

—March 4, 1907—facing a vista wide and beckoning with opportunity—equipped with determination and an ideal.

—March 4, 1908—richer by a year of Experience and a circle of friends—confident of the year to come because of a year of progress in the face of "scrappy times."

—March 4, 1912—an interesting place to pause—the sound of construction operations still resounding to the north of Bullock's where a six-story building has been torn down to make room for a new 10 story basement and sub-basement Class A building to increase Bullock's Broadway frontage by 210 feet, and space by almost 75%—a promise which was the keynote of Inauguration Month, 1912—

—March 4, 1917, opened the door to another year of accomplishment—business had multiplied beyond the point where Service could be maintained at the Bullock Standard without increased space, so the eight-story building of the Pease Bros. Furniture Co., facing on Hill Street, was enlisted and space was increased 33 1/3%—10 acres in all—

—March 4, 1919, found 10 acres inadequate—and property west of Bullock's on Seventh Street and on Hill Street next to Bullock's Hill Street Building was embraced by Bullock's—opening Bullock's New Store of Motor, Travel and Golf and Bullock's Sportsware Store—

—March 4, 1921, is almost here—it will usher in the Fifteenth year of Bullock's—and Inauguration Month—which will devote itself to an interpretation—

—Purpose has intensified from years of doing business under the inspiration of the encouragement from the approval which the people of Los Angeles and the Southwest have placed upon this business through its fourteen years of Service.

—Bullock's Fifteenth Inauguration Month will commence Friday March 4—a month of welcome—of Friendship—of Service—with New Merchandise—New Values—and of re-dedication to an ideal.

A FULL HAND.
There are forty-one players on the Cub roster. That is enough to keep two full games running all the time and still have talent to spare. The wild goats of Catalina ought to eat out of the hand when they get through with the welcome of this bunch.

SALAD DAYS.
It is figured that it will take nearly 1500 freight cars to take care of the Imperial Valley lettuce crop this year. Southern California can come pretty near supplying
the country with its green goods as well as its gold bricks. And this happens to be the real stuff.

THE POLICE AS MOVIE EXTRAS.
Chief Pomeroy has ordained that henceforth policemen must be exclusively policemen. Hitherto, it appears, they have shown a decided penchant for being picture
actors and dance-hall employees as well.

We shall have to confess that we rarely
suspected that the police in the pictures
were the genuine article—if most of them
were no better policemen than they were actors it would account for a good many of the city's troubles.

IMPERFECT HELLS.
The telephone company says that its
worst troubles come through incompetent
and insufficient help, that all its other difficulties
are insignificant in comparison.

Capable and reliable help is the best
asset in any business, and every firm is looking for that kind. There need be no unemployment, no lack of opportunity for the kind of help that puts its best effort and intelligence into its job. But the type whose idea is to give the least service for the most pay and seeks to dodge all manner of responsibility is dear at any price,
and the first hint of industrial depression
offers a glad opportunity to relinquish their dubious services.

HOMES RIGHT.
It seems to be decided for good and
all that no revenue or government agent
can enter private property and remove liberty without having a proper search warrant sworn to before a judge or magistrate
of jurisdiction. Even if the house is contraband the officer cannot force an entrance to seize the same. The Supreme Court has decided that, even if the possession of the liquor was unjustified, the officer seizing it
must return it unless it was taken by authority of a regular warrant. Of course, it isn't difficult to obtain a warrant, and the time may come when officials may carry
them in blank; but, ordinarily speaking, the
citizen who has a flag of hope in his cellar cannot be harmed or interrupted by anyone unless he tries to retail the contents to his neighbors. A man's house is still his castle.

DETT THE POOR SHARK.
The University of California, southern
branch, has acquired a school of sharks, presumably for vivisection purposes. The shark, it is declared, resembles the human
being, physiologically, in so many respects
that a study of its "inwards" in the laboratory is most instructive.

It is reported that, "contrary to the usual
practice, the sharks were skinned in the laboratory to give the student a working knowledge of the shark."

We can't imagine a more valuable bit of knowledge for a student with commercial
or political ambitions; but what are the S.P.C.A. and the anti-vivisectionists doing
not to raise their voices on behalf of the poor shark? Or is this another instance of race prejudice? Just because the shark suffers under an unfortunate reputation as a class the innocent individual to be mercilessly victimized?

The directors have christened their
sharks Cleo, Ezekiel, Beulah, Neuschaddean and Solomon. Whether this is intended as an insult or a compliment to the
sharks or their namesakes is not stated.

THE NEW GOVERNOR OF MAINE.
Hon. Percival P. Baxter, the new Governor of Maine, appointed to that high office
upon the death of the late Gov. Frederick Parker early this month, is well known in Los Angeles, where he has visited his first son, Mrs. James Donavan (formerly Miss Augusta Lamb) on many occasions. He is the son of the Hon. James Phiney Baxter,
now 90 years of age, a nationally famous
historian, a patron of art and reputed to be the richest man, in the State of Maine.

Percival Baxter, the new Governor, is very like Calvin Coolidge in appearance,
a healthy bachelor and is known as a first-
class American of highly democratic tastes
and interests. He has played an important part in the welfare of his State and particularly in his activities to preserve the great
water powers of the State.

He comes of a distinguished family, for
within the same week that Percival Baxter
was elevated to the Governorship his cousin, Elliott P. Joslin, M.D., of Boston, won
national fame with a treatise on diabetes
and Bright's disease in the American Medical Journal which is being discussed and
debated by physicians all over the world.

Gov. Baxter is a great traveler, and it was upon his frequent trips to the Orient that he visited Los Angeles. Holman F. Day, the author, declares that Gov. Baxter inspired
his story, "All-Wool Morrison," the hero
of which resembles the Governor in many characteristics, and particularly in the political
lights and interests set forth in the story.

NOT EXACTLY A FAIRY.
Curiously enough, the United States is the only nation which took an active part in the World War to which the others are looking for financial assistance. Just why this country should play the part of fairy prince
to twenty other struggling nationalities is not clear. It certainly cannot be argued that we owe a special debt of gratitude to either our late enemies or our allies. We received no favors from them in an hour of
extremity, placing us under a moral obligation
to help them set their individual houses
in order. The United States intervened at a time when it appeared that military despotism was about to crush free government
in Europe. We sacrificed about $20,000,000, 000 and the lives of 200,000 of the noblest
of our sons to protect free peoples from powerful and aggressive assailants. When those assailants were beaten and disarmed we naturally felt that our mission was ended.

But it now appears that this country is expected to play the part of financial angel;
that, having once intervened in Europe to check the encroachment of despotism, we are bidden to work and save for the purpose of supporting those who, but a few short years
ago, were amply able to support themselves.
Apparently there are a number of European
people who cannot distinguish between a
good fellow and an easy mark.

It is true that President Wilson engaged
in a great deal of altruistic conversation
while attending the Peace Conference and that his expressions of good will were given
a literal meaning that was not intended.
But we were not prepared for the information,
cabled Thursday from our Paris correspondent, that "every country of Europe
and even of Western Asia expects the United States to support it," both in its domestic
expenses and its national aspirations.

Certainly there was nothing in the pledges
which our government made during the war
to form a basis for the belief that this country
would continue to intervene indefinitely
in the domestic affairs of Europe. It is not the fault of the people of the United States
that our European neighbors came to regard
the government of this country as a kind
of eleemosynary institution or that they attributed to it powers that it does not possess.

Perhaps the misunderstanding arises by reason of the different conceptions of government on the two sides of the Atlantic.
Paternalism is a European idea; the peoples
on the eastern shore of the Atlantic are wont to look to their governments to do things for them which the peoples of the
west are accustomed to do for themselves.
They do not seem to understand that the
extraordinary powers exercised by this government during the war were of but a temporary nature; that in the United States the people support the government, but the government does not support the people.

Because the people of this country consented during the war to lend money to our government to relieve us to our allies it does not follow that such a policy shall be maintained indefinitely. It was the first time in the history of the republic that such loans
were permitted, and we ardently hope that they will never again be necessary. There seem to be no ardent expectancy also that American soldiers will be available to fight
in the quarrels of the different European governments; that this nation is a knight-
errant wandering up and down the earth in search of damsels in distress. The refusal of the Senate to permit the President to accept a mandate for Armenia caused every European government to raise its hands in protest. They did not hesitate to depict the League as the instrument of the four states forming the new union will force
recognition.

Self-determination had something to do
with the selection of the name; for neither
the Czechs nor the Slovaks would yield their racial identity, and an attempt to select a
name sounds unwise and unnecessarily complicated to a western ear, and one wonders
why it could not have been compressed into
two syllables instead of being extended to four; but the commercial importance of the four states forming the new union will force
recognition.

Friendly and mutually advantageous commercial relations are rapidly being established between Czechoslovakia and the United States. It should be one of our best
customers for raw cotton, and we, in turn,
will furnish a market for Czechoslovakia's
porcelains, pottery and manufactured textiles. When asked what the League of Nations has done for a moment of Poland
and Czechoslovakia.

JAPAN'S REAL OBJECTIVE.

Discussion of what Japan may or may not do is keeping the special correspondents busy. They all seem to have made up their minds that she intends to "spring
something," but they disagree on what it is likely to be. One says that America really has nothing to fear and that it is Australia
which has been marked as the "victim" of Nipponese aggression. This, of course,
would bring about a conflict with Great Britain.
As it is, the Czechs and the Slovaks are
friendly and mutually advantageous com-
mercial relations are rapidly being established between Czechoslovakia and the United States. It should be one of our best
customers for raw cotton, and we, in turn,

CARLYLE ATE CORN.

This incident, from the letters of Carlyle and Emerson, is one of the ground on which Americans build their contention that Europe would like corn if it could ever be persuaded to give it a fair trial. The Department of Agriculture once sent demonstrators and lecturers over to Europe to show the possibilities of Indian corn to the people of the countries as to the possibilities
of Nipponese aggression. This, of course,
would bring about a conflict with Great Britain.
As it is, the Czechs and the Slovaks are
friendly and mutually advantageous com-
mercial relations are rapidly being established between Czechoslovakia and the United States. It should be one of our best
customers for raw cotton, and we, in turn,

WHAT FRANCE HAS DONE.

France's determination that Germany
must agree to the plan of reparation finds
ready sympathy in America. As The Times
already has shown, France will be remunerated for but 25 per cent of her losses. Germany should be made to pay this, and more,
rather than the less, for which she will contend at the London conference. Since the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles by the Germans, France's record has been one
well deserved of "honorable achievement."
She has bent every effort to compel Germany to fulfill its obligations. Berlin has pursued a course of evasion and
propaganda designed to separate the Allies.
The United States, not having ratified the
treaty, has been obliged to stand aloof;
Austria and Britain have had other and
many troubles to contend with, so to France
has been left the disagreeable work of attempting to bring Berlin up to the scratch.
What France has done since Germany
signed the treaty is well summarized by
the Atlantic Monthly: "The French have been the sole effective supporters of the treaty and of the arrangements contemplated
thereunder. When the Germans impuditly flouted the treaty and sent troops
into the Ruhr region the French (in the face of Lloyd George's shrill protest) occupied Frankfort and vindicated the treaty.
At Spa the French overthrew the sophistry
and impudence of the Germans by giving them a glimpse of Foch, and the Germans
were obliged to disband their illicit formations
and really to demilitarize. The French,
when Mr. Lloyd George had somewhat contemptuously abandoned Poland to her fate, saved Poland and indeed western civilization, though by the narrowest margin. Truly a great record.

THE PROFITERS.
The Supreme Court has declared part
of the Laver Act unconstitutional. The portion under which we have been prosecuting some of the profiteers appears to have been pretty well shot full of holes.
Some of those 100 per cent hyenas are apt
to come back now, and will Mitch Palmer
pinch for defaming their character. It had been thought by lawyers for some time
that the Laver Act was not airtight, but it did duty as a war measure and the high court was in no hurry to kill it off. It has answered its purpose and now that it has
most of its teeth pulled the profiteers

can see that there is more rabbit than tiger
about the animal. But if it threw a scare
in them during war and reconstruction days
so much the better. The people can take care of most of the profiteers now by simply staying away from their haunts.

Cleaning Up for the New Tenant.

A CORN-FED WORLD.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Can Europe and Asia be taught to eat corn?

This momentous question has been raised again by the gift of a million bushels of corn which American farmers are sending to starving
Europeans and Chinese.

You must know that in practically
no country outside of the two Americas has maize, or Indian corn, been used to any extent as human food.
It has been regarded as food for livestock only. The un-American corn
has simply never learned to eat corn.
But now large sections of that world
are starving. This would seem to be a most unusual opportunity to teach Europe and Asia to eat corn to the advantage of all concerned.

Europe would have a new export
market for its growing corn crop.
In this section the country produces
2,123,500,000 bushels of corn considerably more than the average for
the past five years—2,760,000,000.
But the corn crop has not brought prosperity to the farmer. Instead,
corn prices have fallen 50 per cent.
Instead, corn prices have fallen 50 per cent.

Murphy was bitingly poor. He was called the "self-taught American painter" because he never studied art under a teacher. The fact is his works were in such straits he never had a chance to study fundamentals,
let alone art under a teacher. The family kept many cats. They made a living by peddling for trifles for
the cats.

With this much of every day the
man's problem worked out the corn crop. He knew what it means to work
at rail road centers and the first cargo was shipped to Constantinople. An attempt to be made to keep track of
individual donations so that a
report could be rendered to the givers
showing when and by whom the corn
was used.

SHIPPING TROUBLES.

Shipping corn is a much more
complicated business than shipping
wheat. The corn is grown at rail road centers and the first cargo is shipped to Constantinople. An attempt to be made to keep track of
individual donations so that a
report could be rendered to the givers
showing when and by whom the corn
was used.

THE PRICELESS THIRST.

Some thirsty people will
because there is no grain
their costly thirst will die and fort will begin. A little while they'll dodge the cops and go to wild extremes to carry home a sack of hope and work out home-brew dreams. A little while they'll think it sport to set the bootleg shark through alleys

Water is a great
thing which makes
the body sick. But
all things perish and
die, like roses in the dell, and o'er
a thirst will fade away if it's not nurtured well. And to these nights
will come a morning fair will be revolutionized. Growers will be interested in noting the results of these experiments.

Was Badly Rundown.*

"I have improved so much that my friends who advised me to try Tanac are saying, 'Don't tell you so, I knew it would help you,'" said Miss Caroline Jackson, 5529 Miner St., Los Angeles.

"Last spring I found myself so rundown I could scarcely raise my arms. I had no appetite and was intensely nervous all the time. Mother prepared my favorite dishes but I never could eat and fell off until I only weighed ninety-nine pounds. My condition finally became so bad I had to stop work altogether.

"I took two bottles of Tanac and the way it helped me was wonderful. My appetite returned and I slept good and I went back to my position feeling fine. I never was more surprised when I stepped on the scales and saw that I actually weighed one hundred and six pounds, a gain of seven pounds in two weeks time. Since then mother and I have told just lots of people how much good Tanac did me. It is just Tanac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Stores. [Advertisement]

SUNDAY CLOSING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONG BEACH, March 2.—The first step toward placing the question of closing Sunday amusements, including motion-picture theaters and other entertainments for which admission is charged, before the voters of Pomona, was taken today when copies of the proposed ordinance were filed with City Clerk Thomas R. Trotter by proponents of the Sunday closing law.

The measure is the measure expected to complete all the necessary legal steps so that the question can appear on the ballot at the municipal election on April 4.

The ordinance, if passed, will close the motion-picture theaters, baseball games and other amusements on Sunday. There will be no loopholes in the measure, it is understood.

The City Council realized that the agitation is active in the Sunday closing law and no member was willing to take the responsibility of passing or refusing to pass such an ordinance, directed the City Clerk today to secure any additional signatures, if necessary, to complete the preliminary arrangements in placing the measure on the April ballot.

The Council unanimously directed the Clerk to call a special meeting before the voters in the coming election, so that the question may be definitely settled.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young, and to do this you must be young inside and outside. There's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimplies—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowel and liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the sub-titute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They are about the most effective medicine which all should know, and which all should obtain by taking on the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Without Dieting

Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "die"—"exercises." Today it is "Take Marmite Prescription Tablets." Friends and relatives know about this, and use this convenient, harmless method. They eat what their two, three or four pounds of fat a week. Simple, effective, harmless. Prescribed by Dr. Edwards, and used by all drug stores—a large case for one dollar. Or if you prefer, you may buy direct at the Marmite Company, 1612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.—[Advertisement].

Eight White Sox Ball Players Soon to be Tried.

Prosecutor Gorman Has Not Heard from Cicotte.

(EXCERPTS DISPATCH) CHICAGO, March 2.—A bill of particulars, including the charges which the State expects to prove against the eight former members of the White Sox, was filed before Judge Deyer by an Assistant State's Attorney. After naming Cicotte, Williams, Jackson, McMullin, Gandy, Weaver, Felsch and Rieberg, all of whom have been indicted, the bill of particulars in brief relates that these players, employed by the American League baseball club of Chicago, were engaged to play in competition with the Cincinnati Reds in the world series.

It is stated that William Burns and Hal Chase, former players, were not engaged in these games, and that defendant Joseph S. Cicotte was not engaged as players, but were reputed to be gamblers or prize fighters and interested in the promotion of gambling enterprises in the sporting events of questionable character.

CHARGE MADE. The charge is then made, after reciting the great public interest in the world's series, that the defendant players, in concert with the gamblers, conspired to so manipulate the games that agents of the gamblers, working on the general public, could win large sums of money by means of false and fraudulent play, and that the use of the confidence game.

As a result of this conspiracy, the bill continues, the defendant players were given a varying amount of compensation for betraying their employer and the trust the public placed in them, ranging from $10,000 paid to Cicotte, to $5000 paid other players, defendant, the exact amount of money thus paid not being known to the State.

Prosecutor Gorman said today he had not yet heard from Cicotte or his lawyer, and was taken to what attitude the former may pitcher expects to take at the trial.

TEX IS SILENT. There is little likelihood, however, of the match being conducted across the ocean, particularly under these conditions. Rickard refused to commit himself positively on the proposition. He held the matter in abeyance, saying he would consider the offer along with an offer from McDonald, calculating a $100,000 guarantee if the big pugilistic event is taken across the border.

This latter offer was submitted by the manager of the Tex Willard, who was reputed to be a gambler of considerable experience, to so manipulate the games that agents of the gamblers, working on the general public, could win large sums of money by means of false and fraudulent play, and that the use of the confidence game.

DAVIS HITS ON NEW WAY TO RAISE FUNDS.

IT'S A P. MONEY WIRE] NEW YORK, March 2.—Baseball players, veterans and rookies representing sixteen major league clubs, will be training under the southern sun for the 1921 pennant races before the close of the present week.

Already the migration of the National and American league squads is under way and some of the older stars have indulged in a week or two of preliminary work at the various mineral baths before undertaking the more strenuous training of the Southland.

SOME DIFFERENCE. In the selection of the training camps, the various managers have shown the same wide difference of opinion regarding the choice of quarters that has prevailed in the past. Divided into States the list shows: Florida is favored by six clubs; Florida and Arkansas by two each, and California one.

Nine of the clubs have selected new districts from those used in 1920, while seven will return to the same parks or quarters used twelve months ago for the conditioning of the players. Of the sixteen clubs, the Chicago Nationals, England and Boston only squad to return to the same camp for the third consecutive season, Pasadena, Cal., having the call.

Bevan for several years has been a wrestler and weight lifter at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. He received his training at Liverpool University, England, and has been connected with colleges and clubs in the East. During the war he served overseas.

CLUB GYMNASIUM TO BE OPENED MARCH 11.

The Union League Club's gymnasium in its new eight-story building at Hill and Third streets will be opened with a night of boxing and wrestling bouts, March 11, and the event will serve to introduce the club's new physical director, Al Bevan, who was appointed by the board of directors last Friday.

"For centuries science, much as it has ignored the question of whether it was possible to live after death, as something upon which no imagination could have forced one way or the other. In late years, however, all the greatest scientists, like Sir Oliver James, Sir James Dewar, Sir James Clark, and others, have been devoting considerable thought and study to the problem of immortality. Out of this study and research has come the conclusion that if life after death be not possible, it is quite possible that man's life may be continued on this earth indefinitely under certain contingencies."

What we call disease is simply that state where destroying forces have been introduced into the human system, or, if already there, have been increased and growth by certain conditions, so that the health forces for the time are overpowered. These forces destroy and eat up the tissues and organs of the body, and to account for this disintegrating process until a time is reached when the health forces get the upper hand and slowly put out of action the easily put out of action the easily destroying forces, and it is this state which is called death. Auto-intoxication is just another name for the same process of disease.

Science has now commanded that we can once stop forever the disintegrating action of these unmentionable forces, and for this reason why human life should not continue indefinitely, and it becomes immortal on this earth.

All efforts in medicine and in science have been concentrated on the one great object of discovering and securing control over these disintegrating combinations that will rout the army of germs that practice the disease of a life, and it is being done.

The whole tendency of the latest medical practice is toward prevention, prevention, and toward the cure of causes. Up-to-date physicians aim avalon (Catalina Island) March 2.—"Speed" Martin is assured of a berth on the Cub team after his work-out this morning under the watchful eye of Johnny Evers. Martin was in great form and his twisters came hard and fast. "Speed" has made good," said Manager Evers after he had been watching him "put 'em over" for half an hour. "Now it's up to Martin."

ONCE OVER.

That six other men have "made good" may be inferred from the statement that Evers had them lined up and devoted a good part of the morning to looking them over. They are Grover Alexander, Jimmy Vaughn, acknowledged star of the team, George Tyler, Al Baile, James York and Percy Jones.

Alex threw some pretty ones this morning and got the "Ahs" of the team. York was the only one to show any real interest in the matter.

He will and will probably distinguish himself as he did overseas—he wears three gold chevrons on his sleeves for service in the leading battles in the great war—only he won't show 'em.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Five New York American League players who have been holding out have surrendered and will report to Manager Huggins at Shreveport, La., next week, it was announced today. They are Bob Shawkey and Jack Quinn, pitchers; Aaron Ward and Wallie Pipp, fielders, and Wally Schang, catcher.

SHOW STUFF.

This is said to be the first time in the history of baseball that players have had an opportunity to show before regular training begins the masterly way in which they can play. Manager Evers' plan is to give every man an opportunity to make good. None will be sent back without having had sufficient time to make a showing. By the time the team is in shape the Cubans of Pasadena they will be in good form to pitch with the team.

Asked if a training table would be put on at the team's first meeting, Evers said: "No, indeed—we came over here to put weight on the boys and they are surely doing it. Look at Jones; he is always the other way of course. The boys will be here, and we will distinguish himself as he did overseas—he wears three gold chevrons on his sleeves for service in the leading battles in the great war—only he won't show 'em."

OUT ON FIELD.

Young Johnny Evers, Jr., was out on the field in uniform and showed some great speed and due credit to his father's training. He is a great favorite among the players only eleven, but throws a ball which many a minor leaguer might envy. Evers is the boy who has been on the most strenuous hike of their career on the Magic Isle. The route led back to the Catalina Country Club, past the furniture factory and up the hill to live oaks and all kinds of birds.

The trail is one of the most picturesque of Catalina, but the boys had other tales to tell—but it took all stiffness out and kept "Doc" Brady busy ministering to the weary.

FAIRBANKS TOUR.

COMEDIAN AND MARY PICKFORD TO VISIT CANADA.

By Grace Kingsley.

A longer trip than at first planned is that now under consideration by Douglas Fairbanks and his wife, Mary Pickford. Due to the illness of Jack Pickford, the trip which the two had contemplated was postponed, but they expect to start next Sunday.

In addition to the Mexican trip, according to Miss Pickford, the two will go to the Yukon and to Canada. But all depends on whether they feel they can afford that much time away from production activity.

Jack Pickford, who was taken ill in Mexico with the aid of Al Green at the time he was taken ill, is much improved. In fact, he insisted on getting out of bed and going to the swimming pool. But his mother called a doctor at the last minute, and insisted that Jack be accompanied by a physician.

Another reason why the couple

plan to visit Canada is that the Pickfords refused, during the three nights of his worst illness, to go to bed at all. But his mother called a doctor at the last minute, and insisted that Jack be accompanied by a physician.

From other sources than the family itself I learn that Mary Pickford is much improved, but she is not permitted to join her mother in the last minute. So Miss Pickford is staying pretty pale and thin.

Another reason why the couple

plan to visit Canada is that the Pickfords refused, during the three nights of his worst illness, to go to bed at all. But his mother called a doctor at the last minute, and insisted that Jack be accompanied by a physician.

"I suppose," explained Miss Pickford yesterday, "that the patriotic pupes during the war, and the breed of horsemen from neglect and went away and died. Anyhow, we last night found one belonging to a woman living away down in Santa Monica Canyon."

Jack Pickford, supported by his wife, is now going forward at the Hollywood studios.

The cast includes many noted actors among whom William Conrad, Al St. John, Wally Boles, Ray Cannon, Charles K. French, Barbara Bedford and Lydia Knott.

The story concerns a group of newspaper people, and the theme is faith and never irreconcilable themes two elements may seem nevertheless it appears that Mr. Pickford is managing a very good story.

Now that the latter film is completed, Jack, Sr., fearful that his acrobatic limbs will stiffen or that he will grow fat, has agreed to stay at St. John in a special comedy for Fox.

Butler Cast Announced.

At last David Butler, is announced.

He is directing yesterday the completed cast of "Sobie Semonoff," the Wallace Irwin story, which will be his son's first starring vehicle.

The Butler company left last night for San Francisco, where some scenes will be taken.

Mack Sennett Shows Down.

With the completion of work on Mack Sennett's romantic comedy "Heartbreak," production activity at the Sennett studios will cease for a period of four to six weeks. It is understood that Mr. Sennett has not fulfilled his obligations to the Paramount people for two-reel comedies, and that in view of his new policy, he will release his 1924 two-reel features, perhaps not more than a dozen. These will be distributed to Associated Producers. He is already ahead of his schedule in the development of short subjects in that re-leasing organization.

Another five-reel comedy is likewise ready for the cutting-room, the production of which was suspended just as soon as the scenario of "Molly O'" is completed. Mabel Normand is already studying her role, which is expected, will be the most famous one that Sennett's company has ever presented. Her supporting company will be assembled and at work, it is stated, within six weeks.

Phyllis Haver will spend a vacation in San Francisco and after being a guest of honor at the motion-picture ball at the auditorium, will enter the entertainment line as a member of the motion-picture fraternity.

Miss Haver is accompanied on her vacation by her mother.

Charles Turpin is now on his way to New York, where his daughter will be very ill. This unhappiness prevented Murray's assuming duties as master of ceremonies at the big show in San Francisco.

He will also probably prevent his contemplated trip to Monolulu.

Bert Turpin is now on his way to New York, where his daughter will be very ill. This unhappiness prevented Murray's assuming duties as master of ceremonies at the big show in San Francisco.

He will also probably prevent his contemplated trip to Monolulu.

Marie Prevost, it is understood, has left the Sennett organization permanently.

Blackwell says "Never Again."

Carlyle Blackwell, known on both stage and screen, friends a friend now that he is a divorced man and because it affords an opportunity for branching out in either direction of grand or comic opera. It appears that the public desires lighter fare, and Carlyle Blackwell, followed by Fimble's "The Firefly." Otherwise it is possible that the company may stage "Puccini's "La Boheme." The principals in the company, Mr. Stewart and his wife, are unusually well qualified for their rôle.

The names of those who head the cast are well known in the musical world. Some of the members of the company, Mr. Stewart and his wife, have played principal roles in grand opera in the East, and has also achieved a prominence in light opera roles.

Basil Kinnar is noted as a bass singer to the Metropolitan, where he sang Wagnerian roles. Edwin Stevens, the comedian, was formerly with the Tivoli in San Francisco, and in that company he was a most exceedingly gifted singer.

Mr. Stewart is desirous of bringing his resident talent to the fore in the presentations. Singers of this type will be given solo roles, and as soon as their quality will be established as principals, the plan.

Mr. Stewart returned a few days ago from Phoenix, Ariz., where he

BUSY FOR NURSERY.

Pencil Sale Workers Active at the Campaign Headquarters.

The St. Elizabeth Day Nursery Campaign Committee, having opened headquarters yesterday on the mezzanine floor of Mulier & Blatt's, Sixth street and Broadway, is busily engaged in its work of organization, mailing letters to manufacturers and business men, sending their orders for pencils, and arranging for the assignment of sales houses downtown.

March 15 and 16 are scheduled as the dates for the pencil sale to the public, the letter campaign being supplementary to the great general appeal for the support of the nursery.

Mrs. J. P. Farrell, president of St. Elizabeth's board of directors, is in charge of the headquarters, where during the next few days it is expected to receive full cooperation of workers to aid in the big selling campaign.

PUZZLED BY STANDING OF FIRE CHIEF.

Civil Service Board May Have to Waive Rules to Let Him Take Rest.

The troubles of Fire Chief Scott who, under a recent ruling, is working for a salary less than his assistants, continue to multiply. The Board of Civil Service Commissioners is now struggling with the problem of whether or not it should permit him to take the examination for chief, as provided under charter amendment I, which was approved by the voters at the November general election. This amendment was advocated by Chief Scott, the Board of Fire Commissioners and the fire department members generally, as it would give the chief protection from removal for political reasons. The civil service commissioners have discovered that the usual procedure in examinations would prevent Scott from taking the examination for chief, as he is rated as a battalion chief, and the rank of assistant stands between him and the highest position.

It has been the general custom to permit employees under civil service to take the examination for the next place above them, and indeed this ruling is in accordance with Charter.

Chief Scott might take the examination for assistant chief, but could not take the examination for chief of the department, this examination being open only to the highest grade.

The civil service commissioners and the fire department members generally have decided to waive the procedure in this case.

We have given much thought to the selection of becoming HATS for MATRONS--

Our new garment chief is just back from fashion land—

—And he has brought worlds of new things that will interest you. —Come and see the window displays today—

—And then come to the 3rd floor —we'll count it a pleasure to show you everything that is here without in any way obligating you to buy.

Nearly all designers devote their time almost exclusively to the planning and making of smart hats for younger women, and it was not an easy task for us to find the sort of hats that would become and please matrons. But we found them—a goodly number of them—and they're Oh! so attractive!

There are soft braid Turbans — some with brims—and then there are others fashioned of braid with the flower trimmings softened by maline—and then there are others,—and others,—and others,—one or two with flower crowns,—one or two more with feather brims,—and one or two—but come see them yourself, for you'll never be able to imagine them as pretty as they are, for matrons' hats have never before been so attractive.

In both color and price, the range is so varied that you are sure to find one to please you exactly.

The colors include Black, Brown, Navy, Taupe, Sand, Purple and many others. The prices range from $7.48 to $24.98.

RENT STRIKERS GAIN RECRUITS.

Hundred More Tenants Join Association's Ranks.

Meetings Addressed in Two Languages Are Held.

Head of Crusade Sees Signs of Reducing Charges.

"Rentpayers in all sections of the city are joining the Tenants' Protective Association and are supporting the strike of tenants who refuse to pay more than the city rent-regulating ordinance provides. Nearly 100 more tenants joined in the strike yesterday, and the men in charge of the association are sure that over the way the campaign is growing." W. C. Steele, president of the association, stated.

Indications are that the landlords are not too much from the strike, for some time, Mr. Steele declared. He said this tendency is most noticeable with the landlords, a large number of whom have applied to the association for information regarding the amount to be paid, rather than the amount to be received, may legally charge. Many others, in widely separated areas, though principally on the west side, have made overtures to the striking tenants seeking to arbitrate the matter of rent.

THOUSAND MARK PASSED.

No tabulation of the number of renters who have joined the strike is available, it was announced yesterday at the association's office, though it was stated that the number has easily reached the 1,000 mark. Considerable impetus was given the movement yesterday as a result of a district meeting held at Twentieth street and Central avenue. This district is populated to a large extent by Jews. An appeal was made to them Tuesday night by the strike leaders, and as a result many of the families there joined the strikers' ranks.

One of the sections that has been hardest hit by the strike of tenants is the one from which Mr. Steele, Mr. Steele declared yesterday. He said in one apartment-house every tenant has refused to pay more than is provided for in the rent-regulating ordinance.

IN TWO LANGUAGES.

A meeting was held in this vicinity last night in an effort to get more of the neighborhood residents interested in the strike. William Morris presided at this meeting and addressed the strikers in English by Walker Gould Lincoln, W. C. Steele and Dr. Charles H. Wood, and S. Rosenbaum talked to the Jewish residents in Hebrew.

Mr. Steele stated yesterday that in his opinion the movement cannot fail to accomplish its purpose. He declared that landlords and others in all parts of the city are beginning to feel that the tenants' "rentpayers" are numerous. Who a few months ago were their tenants arbitrarily are now ready to

TRIAL WEDDINGS UNSANCTIONED.

Judge Refuses Annulment to Man Who Married Month After Decree Given.

Declaring that to grant an annulment of marriage under the circumstances presented in the case before him would be to sanction trial marriages, Judge Walton J. Wood yesterday denied a decree to Maj. Lee Vawter in his suit against Isabelle May Drechsler Vawter.

The testimony showed that Mrs. Drechsler a month after she obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from Lloyd William Drechsler, in this case, married Mr. Vawter in Las Vegas, Nev. The court held that Mr. Vawter knew the facts when he married her.

HITS TRADE UNIONS AND HIGH COSTS.

Ad Man Calls First Semi-refined Bolshevism; Says 'Tis Time to Retrench.

The trades unions of America are a semi-refined form of Bolshevism, declared C. A. Brownall, formerly advertising manager of Henry Ford's plant, in a talk at yesterday's noon luncheon of the City Club.

The trades unions, he said, Mr. Brownall, "are to communism 'Then shall we not work.' Now this is not Americanism, if there is anything at all in American democracy. If the trades unions of America would withdraw from politics, the unions might make some progress."

Mr. Brownall declared that the United States is suffering from the tremendous cost of over-government and from business and civic affairs.

"We cannot expect the situation we should have in business when noxious taxes take the heart out of the business man's cash register."

Raise Thousand
for Tots' Aid at Musical Tea.

More than $1000 was contributed to the benefit fund of the local
children's charities at an elaborate
musical tea given in the ballroom
of the Hotel Roosevelt yesterday
noon under the auspices of the Assistance League of which Mrs. Hancock Banning is president and a large number of prominent society
ladies participated.

The affair, in charge of Mrs.
Arthur Wright, chairman of the entertainment committee, assisted by
the radio station, no arrangement
was made to entertain the musical program, was attended by more than 1000 members of Los Angeles' society. Many notable local musicians took part
and the affair was described as one
of the most successful entertainments yet given by the league.

Hundreds of needy tots in the Children's Hospital and crippled
and other organizations for
unfortunate little ones will be benefited by the money taken in yesterday.

TO EXCLUSION LEAGUE.

Mrs. Anita M. Baldwin yesterday
opened a Los Angeles branch, raising a fund of $200,000 in California for the purpose of maintaining the exclusion taken by the State of the Japanese against the United States.
The members of the league are at 412 Chamber of Commerce Building. An intensive drive will be made for members and funds from March 8 to 10.
The quota for the county is $30,000.

Now's Time to Buy Silks in Novel Weaves and Colors.

THE NEW.

IN STORES AND HOMES.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Olive Gray.

Up-to-Date:

Plaids in excellent, color combinations, for separate skirts for street or for sports wear.

To combine organdy with taffeta, in matching or in contrasting colors, the more diaphanous fabric used for the tunic, for sleeves and for the girdle, saff, and sometimes the taffeta to border the latter. Ribbon embroidery on organdy is one of the season's charming effects.

Necklaces and earings in the new Harding blue are a recent introduction. This color is becoming to both blonde and brunette and adds a note of elegance to the costume when worn in the manner mentioned.

Now is the time to buy:

Silks, national silk week has brought forth some exquisite new wear, in some combinations in silk. Harding blue is to be seen, of course, and there are new reds with intermingled tones in contrast, and modifications of reds into shades of rose, satisfying us to seem to touch city silks and in combinations of more than one of our senses. They almost taste and seem actually to emit a fragrance, so beautiful are they!

Perfume Balls.

A novelty just brought out here are the perfume balls which are formed from finest beads. These are suspended from fine-meshed chains also wrought from beads and perfume. Many are very choice perfume. Many do not care to drench garments or handkerchiefs with perfumes and the perfume ball serves the purpose of an ever-present perfume. Although it comes perfumed it may be renewed from time to time, with one's favorite perfume.

Jewelry in Wax.

That the French take fashion most seriously, there is no question; but that they also have a sense of humor is proven and at no time more strikingly than in the creation of some extreme wigs figures brought from Paris. Mr. J. J. Hardin, when the spotlight were turned on these nouveau art wax ladies, a few nights ago, all downtown gathered before the grand arched windows to see the "miracles" which these useful waxies may be in bringing out your point!

The slonged earring serves to add length to the face that is inclined to be too round; the nose can be made round when the features. The color, here, is one of the most potent charms in clearing the complexion and in giving vivacity to the features. But, beware! Choose carefully, or you can doubt, take assistance from a friend, in properly earring.

New Hand-bags.

That the envelope hand-bag is to enjoy renewed popularity this summer, there can be no doubt. Some of the new envelopes are very beautiful, developed as they are in novel shades of rose and in combinations of skirt and blazer, contrasting jacket a range. Gold, silver, platinum all and tortoise or leather in contrasting finish. In the recently brought out collection at that reliable store, which is a shining star in matters of the kind, the hand-bags are more attractive, varied and perfume. Many are very choice perfume. Many do not care to drench garments or handkerchiefs with perfumes and the perfume ball serves the purpose of an ever-present perfume. Although it comes perfumed it may be renewed from time to time, with one's favorite perfume.

Bracelets.

A new fad is the shot chain bracelet which clasp. In silver or in platinum, these new bracelets are popular, especially with the girl who must have the latest in all forms of jewelry.

Tarnished Silver.

Secret Jane has discovered the secret of her silver tarnishing in her hand-embroidered, lovely cases. At least it has been suggested to her that the tarnish may be due to the cases may be the cause. It is a fact that many chemicals are discolored to silver and jewelers take special pains to eliminate noninjurious materials for the cotton cases in which silver articles are housed. Of course you know that the sulphur in gas, blackens silver.
